DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Eldorado M. P. Church stands high above a concrete block foundation. Its corner stone bears its name and date: 1898. The date is repeated in the colored glass transom above the central door. Flanking the door are lancet arch windows with central opaque pane surrounded by small panes of colored glass. The same type windows, three on each side, are found on the sides. In the gable, above the central entrance is a large circular window divided into four opaque panes surrounded by eight colored panes. The walls are covered with aluminum siding. Within the rectangular body of the church rises the bellfry which has a square base with truncated pyramidal roof. From the truncation rises the open bellfry with gallery and balustrade. Its roof has a pediment on each of the four facets from which rises a short spire.
